My Pledge and Creed

REVERENTLY do I pledge myself to the wholehearted service of those whose care is intrusted to this hospital.

TO THAT END I will ever strive for skill in the fulfillment of my duties, holding secret whatsoever I may learn touching upon the lives of the sick.

I ACKNOWLEDGE the dignity of the cure of disease and the safe-guarding of health in which no act is menial or inglorious.

I WILL WALK in upright obedience to those under whose guidance I am to work, and I pray for patience, kindness and understanding in the holy ministry to broken bodies.

FOREWORD

IT HAS been our utmost aim to consolidate in as few pages as possible a record of our past year. To us it will be a means of living over again our many pleasant days of training spent here. To our friends we can only trust it will meet with their expectations.

We wish to thank especially the business men of Abilene for their consideration and valuable assistance to us in getting out this, the second volume of "The Hypodermic."

THE SENIOR CLASS.

DEDICATION

TO YOU, who have so cheerfully held the glowing torch of self-sacrifice and devotion in order to light the obscure paths for youthful travelers who would explore the mystery of life.

To you, whose sacred imprints in vestal walls shall be omnipresent to enkindle the soul with the fire of Godly things and quell the unquiet heart with peaceful zeal,

To you, the graduate staff, whose sweet memory shall ever inspire us to triumph to the honor and glory of her who nurtured us, we affectionately dedicate this our second volume of the Hypodermic.

Board of Trustees

[illegible]

The new addition, now under construction, was made possible through a gift of $110,000.00 from Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Hendrick.

The new building will have four stories and will add fifty-four beds to the present hospital. The first floor of the building will contain class rooms and equipment for the school of nursing.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees Saturday evening, May 9th, 1936, the Board members unanimously voted to change the name of the institution from West Texas Baptist Sanitarium to Hendrick Memorial Hospital, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Hendrick, and instructed the president and secretary of the Board to take the necessary steps to make the change.

The enlarged facilities of the Hospital will give an opportunity for special work with crippled children as well as other lines of surgery and medicine.

SUCCESS

*"It's doing your job the best you can
And being just to your fellow-man;
It's making money, but holding friends;
And staying true to your aims and ends;
It's figuring how and learning why,
And looking forward and thinking high
And dreaming a little and doing much,
It's keeping always in closest touch
With what is finest in word and deed;
It's being thorough, yet making speed;
It's daring blithely the field of chance
While making labor a brave romance;
It's going onward despite defeat
And fighting staunchly, but keeping sweet;
It's being clean and playing fair
It's laughing lightly at Dame despair;
It's struggling on with the will to win
But taking loss with a cheerful grin,
It's sharing sorrow, and work and mirth,
And making better this good old earth;
It's serving, striving through strain and stress,
It's doing your noblest—that's success."*

THE DOCTORS

*I like to talk with business men, with bankers and with clerks,
And I can spend a pleasant hour with any man who works;
I like to talk with lawyers, and with artists now and then,
But still I think I'm fondest of a certain class of men.
I think, although with any man I'm glad to share a jest,
The doctors are the ones I really like to talk to best.*

*The doctors have so much to tell I want to know about,
I like to hear the surgeons talk of what they've taken out;
The brains and lungs that day removed from women and from men
And all the marvelous things they've done to make them well again.
It may be I am strange in this, but I can sit all day
And listen to the wondrous words a doctor has to say.*

*When comes my doctor in to me to sit beside my bed,
Although I've called him in to work, I hope he'll talk instead;
I like to hear the things he knows, the things he's done and seen,
For I am curious about this flesh and blood machine.
And though he is a busy man, I make him earn his fee
By getting him to sit and talk an hour or two with me.*

*Now bankers talk of money, and your artists talk of art,
And there's a sort of wisdom in the knowledge they impart;
But doctors talk of life and death, the cause and cure of pain
And there's a fascination in their speech that I can't explain.
I like to talk with doctors, and I hold their friendship great
But I hope they'll never say to me: "I guess we'll operate!"*

"CLASS PROPHECY"

After five years of nursing in the foreign mission fields of Africa, Elizabeth Cockrell returned to New York and to the Naval Base Hospital. She was greeted by her old room mate, Olene Thurman, who is now Major of the Navy Nursing Corps.

Their vacation having been planned together, they boarded an aeroplane for "Dear Old Texas". The world is not so large and class mates will meet again for the air hostess was Margaret Richey, and they learned from her that Ellen Scott was in the air service also.

An over-night stop in St. Louis, Missouri, afforded them time to visit Eulala Cotton, who is busy in her capacity of public health nurse, and they learned from her that Nell Dabney was married to the Chief Engineer of the Texas Highway Department and has a position as x-ray technician in the State Hospital.

Through Oklahoma and in its Indian Territory at a reservation, they found Oleta Baker faithfully caring for the almost extinct "Redmen".

A few cookies and some cold drinks were bought in Amarillo, and the manager of the store informed them that his wife, formerly Stella Clint Miller, is now a member of the Visiting Nurses Association.

Good old Abilene again! It was good to see Beulah Mae Beard. She is doing special duty nursing in Hendrick Memorial Hospital. After her work, she goes home to prepare supper for her red headed Dutch boy. Laura Nell Price is still in Abilene, but she has given up her profession for a more honorable one—that of managing a home.

Well, yes, Mary Ruth Humphreys married an East Texas farmer and is doing a bit of nursing in her community.

This grand trip brought a secret admiration for the whole class of 1936.

STATE OF TEXAS.
County of Taylor
City of Abilene

} TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN—GREETINGS:

We, the Senior Class of 1936 of West Texas Baptist Hospital School of Nursing, being in a state of sound mind, but failing in health, do hereby make the following individual bequeath in our last will and testament:

Article 1. Beulah Mae Beard her art of courting to Virginia Barrick.

Article 2. Mary Ruth Humphreys her inability to remember whether she posted her late-leave-slip to Ruby Shaw.

Article 3. Laura Nell Price her friendliness to Mildred D. Smith.

Article 4. Margaret Richey her ability to vamp her fellow sister's boy friend, an art requiring much training, to Frances Evans.

Article 5. Ellen Scott her power of out-witting people to Juanita Duncan. May she be as successful as her predecessor.

Article 6. Oleta Baker her egotism and babishness to Dorothy Mae Scott, and her art of drawing to Nollie Apperson.

Article 7. Stella Clint Miller, gifted in the art of smiling, bequeath it to Virginia Davisson.

Article 8. Nell Dabney her lovableness and fairness to Jean Terry.

Article 9. Olene Thurman the art of being firm yet pleasant to Dorothy Lee Loftis.

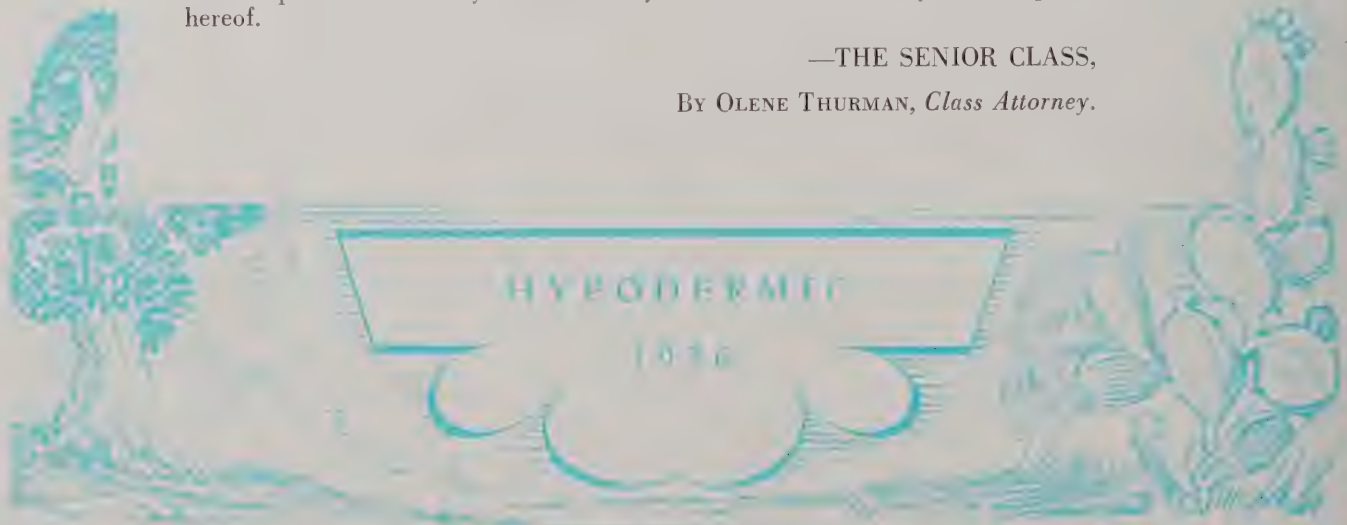

Article 10. Eulala Cotton her quiet dignified professional attitude to Elise Brown.

Article 11. Elizabeth Cockrell her attractive and winsome mannerisms to Dorcas Collins.

We appoint Mr. E. M. Collier as executor of the will; no bond or other security shall be required of him as such. We have full faith and confidence in his integrity and judgment and do not wish to hamper him by restrictions. It is our desire that he be authorized and directed to manage same as he may deem proper, and to make any and all provisions as may be deemed by him advisable to carry out the provisions hereof.

WHO?

Who is it comes at the touch of my bell?
Who is it knows how to soothe me so well?
Who is it comes with a bright, cheery smile?
Who is it tries all my pain to beguile?

My Nurse.

Who is so patient when I am so cross?
Who cools my brow when with fever I toss
Who inspires hope when I want to give up?
Who seeks to sweeten my bitterest cup?

My Nurse.

Who is it watches the whole night through?
Who is so anxious to do all she can do?
Who is so faithful in all of her work?
Who e'en when weary her duty won't shirk?

My Nurse.

Who in the weary night watches me say?
Try, dear, to sleep now, it soon will be day?
Who is it whispers, "The dear Savior knows,
Trust in Him, won't you, He stands very close."

My Nurse.

Who will stand by as I cross o'er the brink?
Who will tell Jesus I'm coming? I think
One there will be who will stay by my side
'Till with my Savior I'm safe on yon side.

My Nurse.

God bless the white capped and white aproned nurse,
Silver and gold cannot her reimburse.
Pour out thy blessings so rich and so free,
On her, my dear Savior, who's so much like Thee,

My Nurse.

"STOP AND THINK"

*Stop and think just what you're doing,
Is your work all trouble and care?
Is it you, or just what is it that makes work hard to bear?
Stop and think when you're answering a bell in the ward,
That some day you might hear, "As you gave to them
you gave unto the Lord."*

*For life is just a picture that hangs without a frame,
Let's live a life pure and sweet
So we will not be ashamed.
There's a bell some day we shall answer, not just the call of someone in pain
But the reading of our merits—a diagnosis lost or gained.*

*Each kind word shall be charted,
Each right and wrong pointed out,
Just what would be your rating?
Do you find yourself in doubt?
So each day let's make our diagnosis,
With a fairer, higher creed,
We will find we are happier,
Helping those who are in need.*

—ELLEN SCOTT.

THE END OF A NURSE'S DAY

Seven o'clock! And the nurse's work
Was done for another day!
She heaved a sort of tired sigh
And put the charts away.

Then sat for a moment and bowed her head
Over the little white desk—
"I wonder," said she to herself, "after all,
Am I really doing my best?"

"Perhaps I could have begun the day
With a brighter, cheerier smile,
And answered the bells with—'right away'
Instead of 'after a while'."

"And I might have listened with sweeter grace
To the story of Six's woes;
She may be suffering more, perhaps,
More than anyone knows."

"And I might have refrained from the halfway frown,
Although I was busy then,
When the frail little girl, with sad blue eyes,
Kept ringing again and again."

"And I might have spoken a kindlier word,
To the heart of that restless boy,
And stopped a moment to help him find,
The missing part of his toy."

"Or perhaps the patient in Eighteen A,
Just needed a gentler touch;
There are a lot of things I might have done
And it wouldn't have taken much."

She sighed again and brushed a tear,
Then whispered—praying low,
"My God, how can You accept this day,
When it has been lacking so."

And God looked down—He heard the sigh,
He saw that shining tear;
Then sent His Angel Messenger,
To whisper in her ear, . . .

"You could have done better today,
But, oh! The Omnipotent One,
Seeing your faults, does not forget
The beautiful things you have done."

"He knows, little nurse, that you love your work
In this house of pain and sorrow,
So gladly forgives the lack of today,
For you will do better tomorrow."

The nurse looked up with a grateful smile,
"Tomorrow I'll make it right";
Then added a note in the order book,
"Be good to them tonight."

SPARE THAT UNIFORM

Laundry spare this uniform,
Make not a single tear,
Just remove the mercurochrome,
But leave the buttons there.
This covered me last week,
I have one more to wear,
For the life of it I speak,
Please handle with care.

'Twas my own clumsy hand,
That sewed those buttons on;
Don't tear the collar band,
For then the uniform is gone,
I want to find the pockets there,
And all the seams without a break,
For again this garment I must wear,
So please be careful for my sake.

SOUND QUALITY

Campbell's has been known always for the things it does not sell as well as for the things it does. No article that cannot conform to the high and exacting quality standards that we have established will be admitted to our stocks. "Caveat Emptor" has no place with Campbell's. Before any piece of merchandise is included in our assortments it must meet the three-fold quality test of good construction, sound materials and authentic design. That every article always meets this inflexible test is our pledge to you. Our daily insistence that high quality standards be maintained is its redemption. Quality implies value. And value plus satisfaction is arrived at when you buy a good article at a thrifty price. Among growing thousands of families in West Texas Campbell's quality standards are a real and vital fact. And it is the acceptance of such standards — the reliance upon such standards—this customer dependability in quality merchandise that have helped build the growing Campbell patronage.

Then the angel and the doctor
Started up to glory gate
But when passing close to Hades,
The angel whispered "wait,
I've a place I want to show you,
It's the hottest in all hell,
Where the ones who never paid you
In eternal torment dwell!"
And behold, the doctor saw there
His old patients by the score;

Then, grabbing up a chair and fan,
"I wish for nothing more;
I'm content to set and watch them
As they sizzle, singe and burn,
May I crank the spit a little,
To give each one another turn?"
Said the angel, "Come on, doctor,
There the pearly gates I see."
But the doctor only murmured,
"This is heaven enough for me."

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF:—

Duncan stayed awake in class.
Little Scottie forgot her chewing gum.
Price didn't giggle.
Dabney broke a rule.
Beard were to be out of love.
Shaw forgot her "French."
Humphreys were to marry a medical student.

Baker didn't complain.
Cockrell arched her eye brows.
Richey got to be a doctor's assistant.
Miller forgot her sarcasm.
Big Scott stayed on a diet.
Cotton didn't have a "steady."
Loftis should go to Snyder.
Thurman got in late.
